Reach for a star
Set forth a goal
Find a friend
From half to whole.

Summer days
Been and gone
Winter days
Forever long.

End of an era
Youth has passed
Golden memories
Eternally last.

Ellen Stein

There is no doubt that I have had a special interest in the class of 1973. This is the first class that I had contact with when I came to Peabody at the Seeglitz Junior High School. It was also the first class that I was advisor to at the "old" high school. This class has been together as one intact group for the past five years and I have had the opportunity to see you mature both physically and emotionally in that time. During that period you have built up a cohesiveness that has enabled you to accomplish together while enjoying each other's company. Now the class is leaving in different directions, and you will each become members of a new group. If you can help that new group work together as well as I have seen you work together over the years, then you are on your way to happiness. Remember: Work Together.

People
Come Into Our Lives

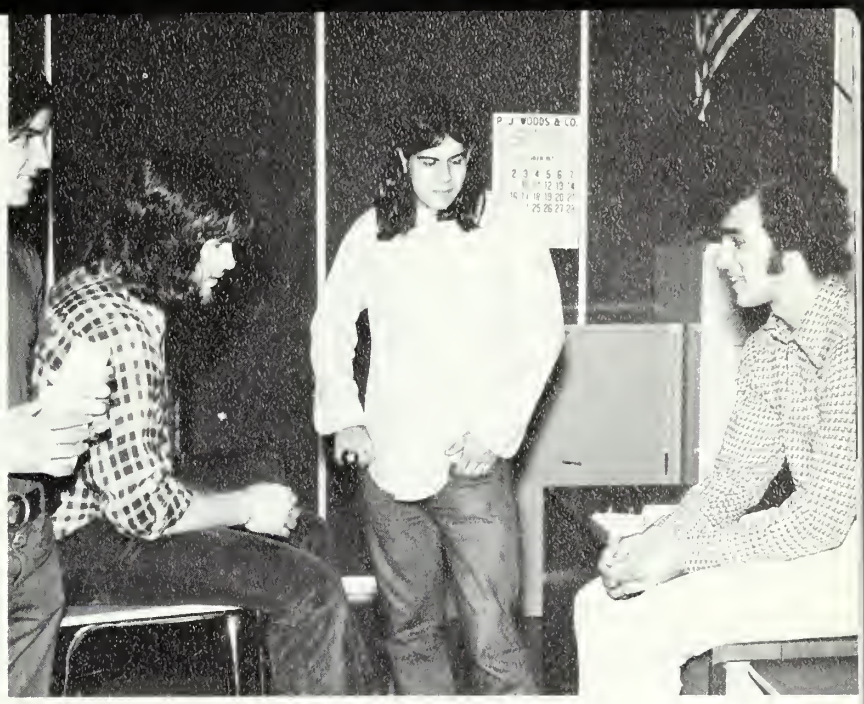
And Walk
With Us
A Mile



But then Because

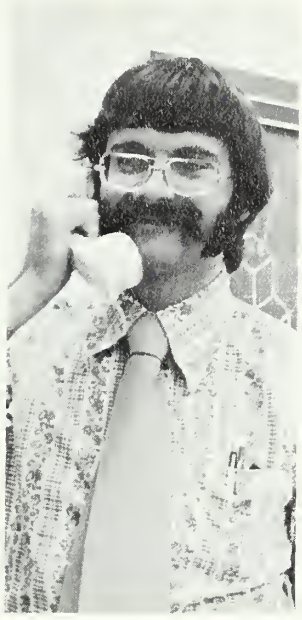
Of

Circumstance

They Only STAY Awhile

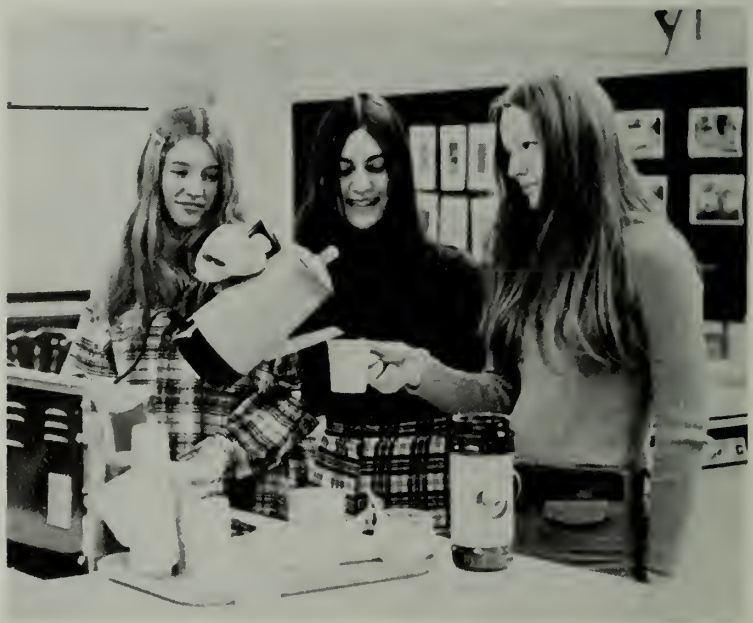
They Serve A Need Within the Days

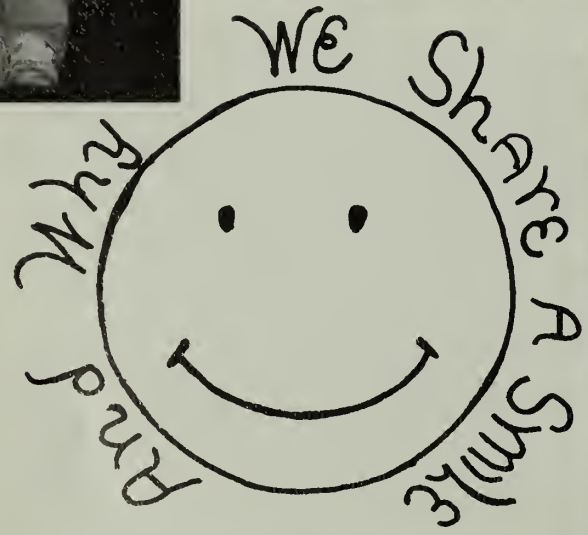
That Pass So Quickly By



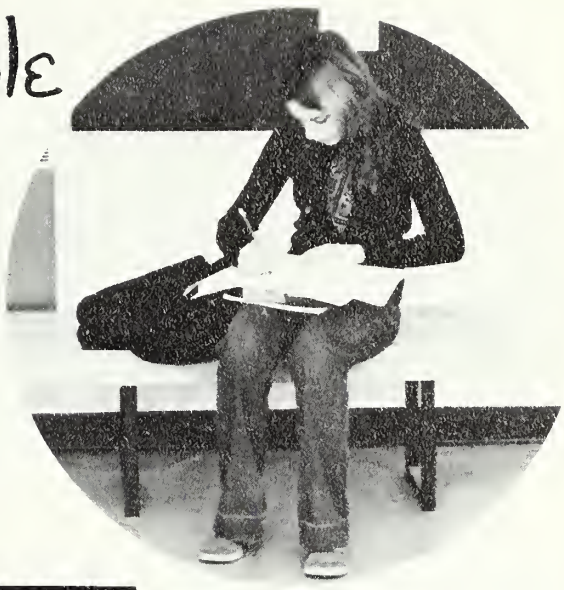
And Then They Are Gone beyond Our REACH We often Wonder Why

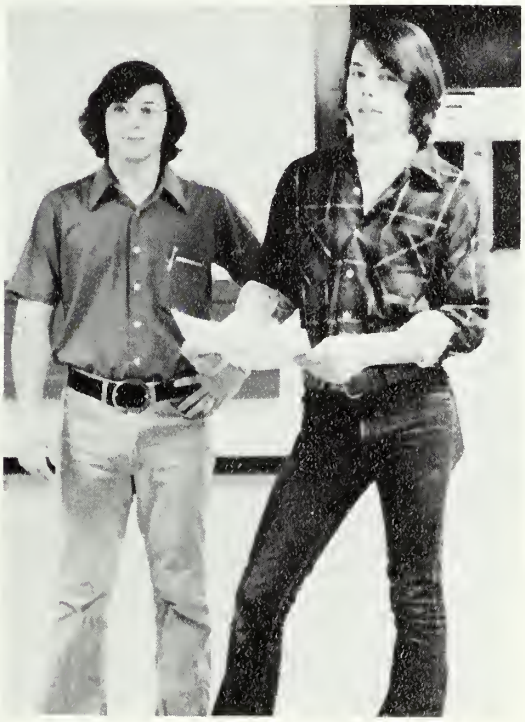
GOD ONLY Knows JUST Why We Meet



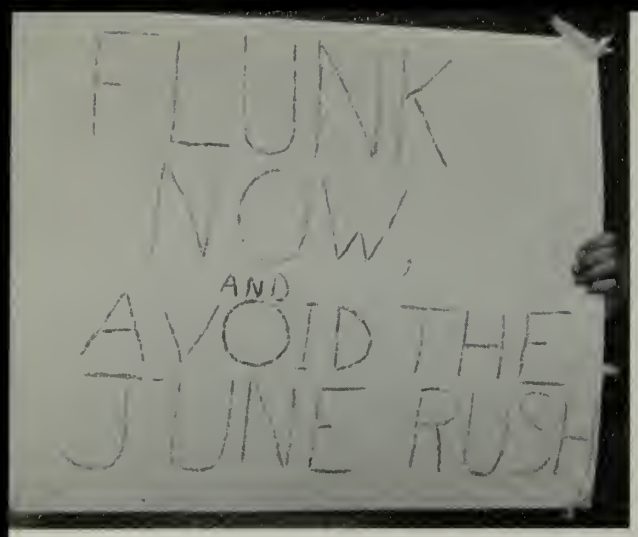


Why People come into OUR Lives





And Walk With Us A Mile



FLUNK
NOW, AND AVOID THE JUNE RUSH

You, who are on the road, must have a code that you can live by.
And so, become yourself.
Because the past is just a goodbye.
Teach your children well,
their fathers hell will slowly go by . . .
And feed, them on your dreams,
the one they picks
the one you'll know by.
Don't you ever ask them why
if they told you, you would cry
so just look at them and sigh . . .
and know they love you.

And you, of tender years, can't know the fears that your elders grew by.
So please, help them with your youth,
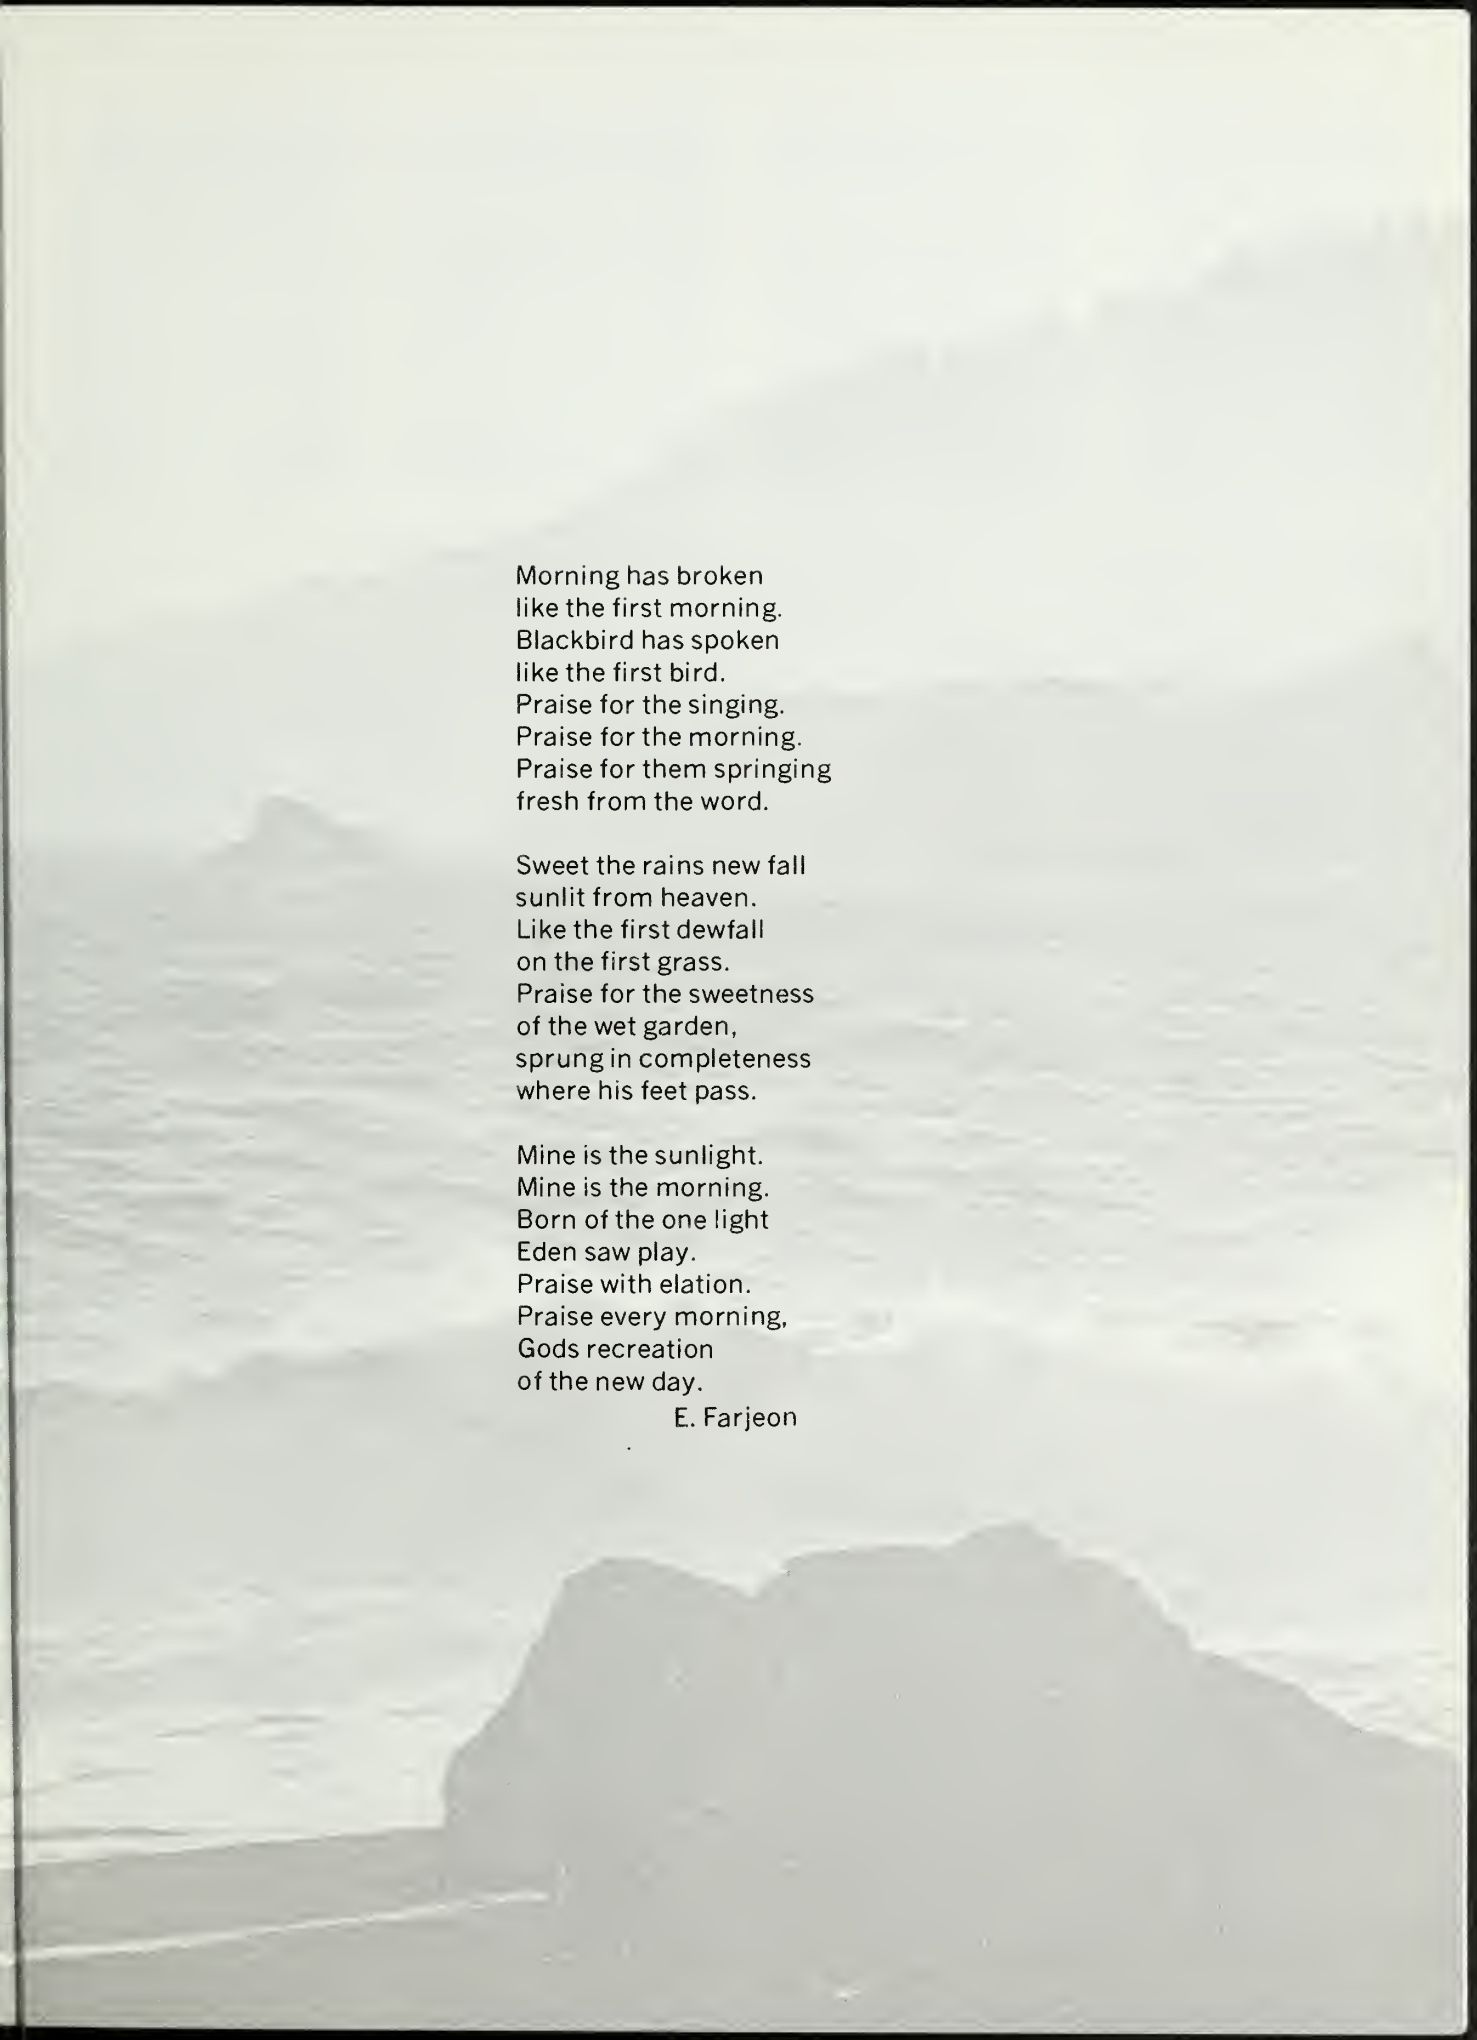
they seek the truth
before they can die.
Teach your parents well.
Their childrens hell will slowly
go by . . .
And feed them on your dreams,
the one they picks
the one you'll know by.
Don't you ever ask them why
if they told you, you would cry
so just look at them and sigh . . .
and know they love you.

Graham Nash



Morning has broken
like the first morning.
Blackbird has spoken
like the first bird.
Praise for the singing.
Praise for the morning.
Praise for them springing fresh from the word.

Sweet the rains new fall
sunlit from heaven.
Like the first dewfall
on the first grass.
Praise for the sweetness
of the wet garden,
sprung in completeness
where his feet pass.

Mine is the sunlight.
Mine is the morning.
Born of the one light
Eden saw play.
Praise with elation.
Praise every morning,
Gods recreation of the new day.

SHERRY SCHAFFER

There are many roads that I must take Many obstacles I must overcome
Many hurts I must sustain
And if I find but . . . one friend
To help me along--
That lonesome road
Then I'll have been strengthened
To go the rest alone.

CLASS HISTORY

We all came together for the beginning of our five years at Seeglitz Jr. High. This is when the boys became men in jackets and ties and the girls became ladies in nylons, fishnets, and skirts to the knees. This was the first time for travelling to classes — what did it matter that you were with your own home room all day? We still were travelling. And of course there was the underground cafeteria, where the boys couldn't see the girls eat or vice-versa . . . Remember Tag-Day, yo-yos, and squirt guns? By the end of the year the strange faces became familiar and with a sense of excitement mixed with a bit of fear, we entered the J.F.K.

The big things at Kennedy were a library you could really go to as long as you didn't chew gum, study halls with all your friends, and our own sports teams. Braver and bolder we all had different schedules, took showers in gym and on nice days sat out on the courts. At the end of our Kennedy Era we celebrated with a barbecue, Lincoln Park, and Casual Day.

We made it! One year at the old Peabody High, but an important one. We were now in high school. However, not quite the big shots we were at Kennedy. This was the first time we had to suffer as underclassmen. Things were different here. Girls and boys weren't separated at lunch and we could buy ice cream. Remember worrying which gym you were supposed to be in and wondering if you'd miss your whole gym class if you went to the wrong one? Because of the size of the building, you could get away with things you once thought to be impossible, and it was twice the fun. Friday night dances were a common thing and life was beautiful if you had a friend with a car. We were grown up now and for midterms and finals we could come and go.

Junior year started late and in mild horror. Why was our school up in the woods, look like a factory, have a long tunnel as an entrance and have no windows? It made us wonder a little. By then most of us had licenses and MacDonald's became the place to go. This year the library was swamped — thanks to American Pie and Carol King. Is there anyone who didn't get spoken to by Mr. Espindle at least once for disturbing others? Mr. Cronin became the most important teacher to most of us, despite the traumatic experiences he offered! Open Campus went into effect and those with seventh period study hall were the envy of all. Then it was College Board time and we decided that maybe college wasn't so important anyway.

Our Senior Year came and we finally became the envy of the lower classmen. By this time we had figured out which door was really the front entrance to the school. This year almost all of us majored in whist and Senior Lounge, while listening to whatever was making music over the intercom. Our drama club put on a fantastic "Becket" and brought us the "Proposition". Many waited anxiously to hear from their colleges and we all made big decisions in our lives. Now we've graduated and it's bittersweet, an end of an era, and a beginning . . .

Silent sunlight, welcome in.
There is work I must now begin.
All my dreams have blown away
And the children wait to play
They'll soon remember things to do . .
When the heart is young
And the night is done
And the sky is blue.

Morning songbird, sing away.
Lend a tune to another day.
Bring your wings and choose a roof
Sing a song of love and truth
We'll soon remember if you do . . .
When all things were tall
And our freinds were small
And the world was new.

Sleepy horses, heave away.
Put your backs to golden hay.
Don't ever look behind at the work you've done,
For your work has just begun
There'll be evening in the end . . .
But till that time arrives
You can rest your eyes
And begin again.

Cat Stevens

Hello my friend
So happy to see you again.
I'm so alone
all by myself
just couldn't make it.

Have you heard
what the winds blowin' down?
Have you heard
a lot of peoples comin' right on down?

Communication is coming on strong,
It don't give a damn if your hair is short or long.

I said get out of your grave,
everybody is dancin' in the street.
Do what you know, don't be slow
you gotta practice what you preach.
It's time for you and me come to face reality.

Forget about the past things ain't what they use to be . . .
Keep on straight ahead.

We got to stand side by side.
We got to stand together and organize.
They say power to the people . . .
That what they're screamin'
freedom of the soul
Pass it on, pass it on to the young and old.

You got to tell the children the truth
they don't need a whole lot of lies.
Cause one of these days
they'll be running things.

So when you give them love you better give it right.
Woman — child — man and wife,
the best love to have is love of life.

Hello my friend
So good to see you again.
Been all by myself
I don't think I can make it alone . . .
Keep on straight ahead.

Nicholas Mavroules

What is the moment of our birth?
We know the birthday of our body.
Yet we can never know
the moment of birth of our character.
It has no date.
The birth of our character has many beginnings and is without end
in the days and years of our life.
At every moment
we face an infinite number of opportunities to create a greater meaning in our life.
Always, we find ourselves before another beginning.
In this we discover the most creative power of Man the power and delight of the self-creation of our character.
We create our character
when we are alone with ourselves and in the relationships
we also evolve with others.
And most of all our values will be determined by the direction in which we choose to grow with others and within ourselves.
On the preceding pages we have tried to express our understanding of some of the opportunities given to all of us to find the direction and meaning of our lives.
But we know it is only when words move a man to act that they reveal their strength.
In what we do we find the continuing birth of our character.
In what we do . . .
We are always before another beginning.

Moshe Davis & Victor Ratner

When you're down and troubled and you need a helping hand
And nothing, nothing is going right
Close your eyes and think of me and soon I will be there
To brighten up even your darkest nights
You just call out my name and you know wherever you are I'll come running to see you again
Winter, Spring, Summer, or Fall, all you've got to do is call
And I'li be there you've got a friend
If the sky above you should grow dark and full of clouds
And that old North Wind should begin to blow
Keep your head together and call my name out loud
Soon I'll be knocking upon your door
Ain't it good to know that you've got a friend
When people can be so cold
They'll hurt you and desert you
They'll take your soul if you let them
But don't you let them, you've got a friend,
Ain't it good to know you've got a friend!
